

APPENDIX A:
KEY PROJECT PERSONNEL

KEY PROJECT PERSONNEL

Douglas B. Mooney earned his Master's Degree in Anthropology from Pennsylvania State University and holds a B.A. in Anthropology from West Virginia University. He also completed two years of post-graduate study at the Institute of Archaeology, University College, London. Principal Archaeologist at Kise Straw & Kolodner, Mr. Mooney has over twelve years experience in cultural resources management and has participated in the excavation of more than 150 sites throughout the Mid-Atlantic region and in England. The primary author of more than 25 technical reports and professional papers and presentations, Mr. Mooney's experience encompasses historical, urban, mortuary, and prehistoric archaeology. He is a member of the Society for Pennsylvania Archaeology, the Council for Northeast Historical Archaeology, the Middle Atlantic Archaeological Conference, the Archaeological Society of New Jersey, and the Philadelphia Archaeological Forum.

Kimberly Morrell earned a B.A. in Anthropology from the University of Rhode Island and has over nine years of experience on more than 30 archaeological sites throughout the contiguous United States. She has also completed advanced courses and fieldwork in historic structures documentation. Ms. Morrell has been a Project Archaeologist with Kise, Straw, and Kolodner since 2000 and is experienced in prehistoric, historic, urban, and mortuary archaeology. She has participated in or supervised several mortuary projects, as well as PennDot and urban Philadelphia sites. Ms. Morrell is a member of the Society for Pennsylvania Archaeology and the Society for Historic Archaeology.

Dr. Petar D. Glumac is the Director of Archaeological Services at Kise Straw and Kolodner. He received his B.A. in Anthropology from the University of Pennsylvania and his Ph.D. from the University of California at Berkeley. He is certified by the Register of Professional Archaeologists (RPA) has more than 25 years experience as a practicing field archaeologist. During this time Dr. Glumac has conducted and supervised academic excavation and survey projects in Europe and Asia. While working in the private sector he has supervised CRM projects in South America and Japan, as well as having extensive project experience throughout the United States, particularly in the Mid-Atlantic and Northeast. He is the author of more than 50 professional publications and cultural resources reports.